DETAILED ACTION

1. Examiner Sajid Yussuf is no longer assigned to the present patent application. This application is now assigned to Examiner Paul H. Kang. In examining this patent application, full faith and credit has been given to the search and action of the previous examiner. MPEP §719.05.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rune et al. (US Patent No. 6,304,913 and Rune hereinafter).

4. As per claim 1, Rune discloses a computer network, comprising:
a plurality of network appliances that optimize the performance of domains hosted on geographically distributed mirrored network sites, (See Column 1 Lines 54-67 & Column 2 Lines 1-24);

Art Unit: 2141

a client computer coupled to said plurality of network appliances (See Column 3 Lines 49-64); and a network over which said network appliances and said client computer communicate (See Column 3 Lines 49-64);

wherein, in response to a connection request by the client to a mirrored network site, each network appliance associated with each mirrored network site responds to the connection request to allow the client to connect to a mirrored network site having an optimal response time to said connection request (A connection is established from a client to a mirror server having an optimal response time, i.e. the closest server or a server with the least amount of "hops" to traverse. See Column 1 Lines 54-67 & Column 2 Lines 1-24 and col. 6, lines 1-58).

5. As per claim 3, Rune teaches the claimed invention as described in claim(s) 1-2 above and furthermore discloses wherein said network appliance communicates with said client computer through a TCP protocol, (See Column 8 Lines 30-41).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rune as applied above, in view of Biliris et al., US Pat. No. 2002/0078233 A1.

7. As per claim 2, Rune discloses the invention substantially as claimed.

However, Rune does not explicitly teach wherein said network appliances communicate with each other through an authenticated protocol on top of a communications protocol.

In the same field of endeavor, Biliris teaches a system and method wherein a network appliance communicates with each other through an authenticated protocol on top of a communications protocol, (See Paragraph 0151).

Therefore it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's invention to incorporate the use of an authenticated protocol as taught by Biliris, into the distributed data system of Rune, for the purpose of balancing security and simplicity.

As per claim 4, Rune-Biliris teach a computer network wherein said client computer runs a secure or insecure telnet session to display or modify the configuration of said network appliances (See Biliris, Paragraph(s) 0018-0019).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 2141

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
